COPYRIGHT AND RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. The various state privacy acts govern the use of materials that document private individuals, groups, and corporations.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a reproduction if the document does not infringe the privacy rights of an individual, group, or corporation. These specified conditions of authorized use include:

- non-commercial and non-profit study, scholarship, or research, or teaching
- criticism, commentary, or news reporting
- as a NPS preservation or security copy
- as a research copy for deposit in another institution

If a user later uses a copy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," the user may be personally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement. This institution's permission to obtain a photographic, xerographic, digital, or other copy of a document doesn't indicate permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, sell, distribute, or prepare derivative works from this document without first obtaining permission from the copyright holder and from any private individual, group, or corporation shown or otherwise recorded.

Permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, prepare derivative works from, sell, or otherwise distribute the item must be obtained by the user separately in writing from the holder of the original copyright (or if the creator is dead from his/her heirs) as well as from any individual(s), groups, or corporations whose name, image, recorded words, or private information (e.g., employment information) may be reproduced in the source material. The holder of the original copyright isn't necessarily the National Park Service. The National Park Service is not legally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement when materials are wrongfully used after being provided to researchers for "fair use."

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if fulfillment of the order is judged in violation of copyright or federal or state privacy or publicity law.

HISTORY

The Yellowstone Park Company served as the first major concessioner in Yellowstone National Park until 1979. It started out as an amalgamation of many smaller concession companies with the individual companies providing different services to the park visitors. Through inheritance, acquisition, corporate takeovers, and forced consolidation by the government the various hotel, camps, lodges, transportation, and service concession companies merged together to form the Yellowstone Park Company.

1882 – The Wylie Permanent Camps Company was started.

1883 – The Yellowstone Park Improvement Company (YPIC) was organized by Carroll T. Hobart, Rufus Hatch, and Henry Douglas.

1886 – The Yellowstone Park Association (YPA) was created by the Northern Pacific Railroad (NPRR) to take over the properties and operations of the bankrupt Yellowstone Park Improvement Company (YPIC). The heads of the company were Charles Gibson, Nelson C. Thrall, Frederick Billings, and John C. Bullitt. The YPA signed a ten-year contract with the Park where they agreed to build hotels at Canyon, Lake, Norris, and complete the Mammoth Hotel. The contract also gave YPA a boat concession on Yellowstone Lake but they did not use it until 1891 when E.C. Waters began managing the Yellowstone Lake Boat Company.

1892 – Edward Bach, Silas Huntley, and Harry W. Child (brothers-in-law) along with Aaron Hershfield and L.H. Hershfield started the Yellowstone National Park Transportation Company (YNPTC).

1898 – The Yellowstone Park Transportation Company, under the ownership of Edward Bach, Silas Huntley, and Harry W. Child, took over the Yellowstone National Park Transportation Company. The Northern Pacific Railroad became the sole owners of the Yellowstone Park Association and then sold YPA to their subsidiary, the Northwest Improvement Company (NWIC).

1901 – Bach, Huntley, and Child bought the Yellowstone Park Association from the Northwest Improvement Company (NWIC). Huntley died in 1901 and Bach sold his shares back to the NWIC in 1902.

1905 – The Yellowstone Park Transportation Company started using the logo of the bear surrounded by red, white, and blue circles.

1907 – Harry W. Child bought all of the Northwest Improvement Company's shares in the Yellowstone Park Association and became the sole owner.

1910 – Harry W. Child changed the name of the Yellowstone Park Association to the Yellowstone Park Hotel Company. Tom Hofer obtained a loan, from Harry W. Child, to purchase the Yellowstone Lake Boat Company from E.C. Waters. Hofer changed the name of the company to the T.E. Hofer Boat Company.

1911 – Harry W. Child, William M. Nichols (Child's son-in-law), and E.C. Day started the Yellowstone Park Boat Company by taking over the T.E. Hofer Boat Company. They operated a ferry until 1917 when the motorized bus made it unnecessary and then turned it into a sight-seeing and fishing excursion service.

1916 – The Yellowstone Park Camping Company was formed by the merger of the Wylie Permanent Camping Company and the Shaw & Powell Camping Company. The camps were at Mammoth, Canyon, Lake, Riverside, Tower, and Upper Geyser Basin. The camps at West Thumb, Willow Park, Gibbon Falls, Nez Perce, and Cody Camp were abandoned. The Riverside Camp closed in 1918.

1916-1917 – The first National Park Service superintendent of Yellowstone National Park, Horace Albright, forced all of the transportation services to consolidate into the Yellowstone Park Transportation Company, and the entire tourist cabin and lodge operations to become consolidated into the Yellowstone Park Camping Company.

1919 – The Yellowstone Park Camps Company was created by Howard Hays and Roe Emery when they bought the Yellowstone Park Camping Company with the silent backing of Walter White of White Motor Company.

1924 – Vernon Goodwin acquired the Yellowstone Park Camps Company, with the silent backing of Harry W. Child, and renamed it the Vernon Goodwin Company. The Sylvan Pass Lodge was opened.

1926 – The Yellowstone Park Service Stations (YPSS) was formed by Harry W. Child, Charles Hamilton, and George Whittaker. Hamilton Stores and the Yellowstone Park Company co-owned the YPSS starting in 1953.

1928 – Harry W. Child bought out the Vernon Goodwin Company and renamed it the Yellowstone Park Lodge & Camps Company.

1931 – Harry W. Child died and his son-in-law, William M. Nichols, took over running the family businesses.

1936 – The Yellowstone Park Hotel Company, the Yellowstone Transportation Company, the Yellowstone Boat Company, and the Yellowstone Park Lodge & Camps Company were consolidated into the Yellowstone Park Company (YPC).

1956 – William M. Nichols retired and named his son, John Q. Nichols, the new president of the Yellowstone Park Company. The National Park Service enacted the Mission 66 plan to upgrade and improve visitor facilities, sewage systems, campgrounds, picnic areas, and roads in all parks by 1966. Under the Mission 66 plan, the Yellowstone Park Company (YPC) was tasked with building lodging and marina facilities at Grant Village, a new lodge and tourist cabins at Canyon

Village, and a new marina at Bridge Bay. The company refused to build any facilities at Grant Village but they grudgingly agreed to pay for the construction of new facilities as Canyon Village. The Yellowstone Park Company obtained the contract for winter snowcoach travel in the Park. They subcontracted with the Young & Nicholls Company to provide the snowcoaches and run the tours of the Park during the winter.

1957-1958 – William M. Nichols died. The Canyon Village lodge and tourist cabins opened and the Canyon Hotel was forced to close. Construction costs and the loss of revenue from the hotel closure caused a major financial set-back for the Yellowstone Park Company, which had been suffering from financial difficulties since the early 1940s.

1959 – The Yellowstone Park Ice Company was started by R.T. Killion, who then subcontracted to the Yellowstone Park Company to operate the ice plant and vending machines at Fishing Bridge, Lake, West Thumb, Old Faithful, Mammoth, and Canyon.

1961-1964 – The construction of the Bridge Bay Marina was supposed to be the responsibility of the Yellowstone Park Company under the Mission 66 directives but the company refused by claiming it would be too much of a financial burden. The company did manage to negotiate for the operating lease to the marina once the National Park Service built it.

1965 – National Park Service Director George B. Hartzog, Jr. notified the Yellowstone Park Company that the government intended to terminate their concessions contract due to the company's failure to upgrade and build new facilities as directed under the Mission 66 plan.

1966 – The Yellowstone Park Company was a family business until it was bought by Goldfield Enterprises and became one of its subsidiary companies. A new concessions lease was signed on the provision that Goldfield would spend ten million dollars within ten years on upgrades and improvements on visitor facilities and buildings in the park.

1967 – Goldfield Enterprises was absorbed into the General Host Corporation with the Yellowstone Park Company becoming a subsidiary of General Host. The Yellowstone Park Company bought five snowcoaches from the Young & Nicholls Company, their subcontractors, and started to run the winter tours between West Yellowstone and Old Faithful.

1979 – The National Park Service canceled the Yellowstone Park Company's concessions lease because of General Host's refusal to honor contract promises of upgrading and improving concession facilities. The United States Government bought all of the General Host Corporation's assets within Yellowstone National Park and then awarded all of the Yellowstone Park Company's former concession operations to TWA Services, Inc.

DESCRIPTION This collection contains material related to the daily business operation of the Yellowstone Park Company and some of the predecessor concessioner companies from 1884 to 1979.

The Yellowstone Park Company started out as many smaller companies offering a variety of different services to visitors and eventually consolidated to become the largest single concessioner company operating in Yellowstone National Park. This collection documents the progression of consolidation through the financial records and correspondence of those individual companies as they evolved into the Yellowstone Park Company. Once the merger was completed in 1936, the material in this collection shows the company's financial highs and lows through times of war and large scale improvement projects such as the Mission 66 directive. Other documents explain the decline of the company and its relationship with the National Park Service until it finally lost its concessioner contracts and was forced to relinquish its property within Yellowstone National Park.

The majority of the collection documents the company's post-consolidation activities but there are also records from the Yellowstone Park Association, the Wylie Permanent Camps Company, the Yellowstone Park Boat Company, the Yellowstone Park Camps Company, the Yellowstone Park Camping Company, the Yellowstone Park Camps & Lodge Company, the Yellowstone Transportation Company, and the Yellowstone Park Hotel Company. There are also materials showing the company's relationship with other Yellowstone National Park concessioners such as Hamilton Stores, Haynes Studios, and Pryor Stores.

Subjects include the “Don’t Feed the Bears” campaign with a letter to Yogi Bear from the superintendent, the interaction between the Civilian Conservation Corps and the concessioners, robberies and hold-ups in Yellowstone National Park, the effect rubber and gas rationing had on park visitation during World War II, and the consequences of Mission 66 directives on the Yellowstone Park Company. Other broader themes include the relationship between the National Park Service and the Yellowstone Park Company and the visitors’ experience and satisfaction with services and amenities offered by the Yellowstone Park Company.

ORGANIZATION

Organized into thirteen series: Series I, Business & Finance Records; Series II, Concessions & Contracts Records; Series III, Facility Management Records; Series IV, Labor Department Records; Series V, Railroad Partnership Records; Series VI, Transportation Department Records; Series VII, Business Correspondence; Series VIII, Government Correspondence; Series IX, Brochures & Publications; Series X, Architectural Drawings & Related Ephemera; Series XI, Menus; Series XII, Photographs; Series XIII, Visual Recordings.

The materials in Series I through Series VIII are arranged alphabetically and then chronologically based on subject matter, location, individual, company, or agency. Any perceived irregularities in the alphabetical order of the topics are actually due to the format of original file titles that has been retained. There are also oversized items that have been separated from the main collection. These oversized items are linked to the collection by separation sheets placed in their intellectual location within the files but the items are physically stored in a separate place for their protection.

The materials in Series IX through XIII are arranged by format and then arranged alphabetically and chronologically when possible. Some items in this series have been separated from the collection and placed into a different storage location due to the item’s size or format. Separation sheets show an item’s intellectual place within the collection.

PROVENANCE

SERIES DESCRIPTIONS

I. Business & Finance Records, 1892-1977

This series contains financial ledger books, bank statements, payroll registers, budget and audit reports, inventories, operating permits and leases, purchase orders, fares and rates, travel statistics, end of season reports, and service station journals.

Included in this series is a group of folders originally documenting insurance coverage, which contains detailed vehicle inventories from the late 1930s to late 1950s.

II. Concessions & Contracts Records, 1917-1978

Within this series are contracts for employment and concession amenities, projected budgets for the concessions while under contract, memos on meetings between the concessioner and Yellowstone National Park staff, proposed policies for new contract terms, legal matters resulting from concession contracts, and payroll ledgers with dates. See also personnel lists with dates in Series 4.

There is also information from the Western Conference of National Park Concessions where all of the western regional National Parks and their concessioners would get together to discuss a variety of topics relating to concession operations.

III. Facility Management Records, 1920-1976

Contained in this series are the maintenance and construction files pertaining to buildings, structures, and roads within Yellowstone National Park.

There are project reports from the construction and engineering director, renovation and improvement plans, construction of the Cody and Red Lodge-Cooke roads, additions made to various structures, accommodations available for both employees and visitors, and the building of civil defense shelters in the park. Some documents list construction expenditures and show construction activity in the Gardiner and Mammoth Hot Springs areas. There is also information on the Old Faithful Inn and Lodge, Mammoth Hotel, Canyon Hotel and Village, Lake Hotel and Lodge, Grant Village, Roosevelt Lodge, Fishing Bridge, and tourist cabins at places such as Old Faithful, Canyon, Mammoth, and West Thumb.

IV. Labor Department Records, 1928-1979

This series pertains to the hiring, training, and oversight of Yellowstone Park Company employees. There are access restrictions on certain documents due to the personal nature of some of the information such as employment applications, W-2 tax correspondence, and unemployment compensation forms. Related materials include detailed payroll ledgers with dates and transportation employee records with dates, both in Series I.

Other documents include such things as personnel lists, training manuals, employee days-off charts, housing assignment lists, employee railway fares reimbursement forms, labor union agreements, and labor laws. There is also information on the Old Faithful labor strike of 1962, hours per week and minimum wage regulation research materials, employee reunion correspondence, and lists of employees given a Yellowstone Park Company Club membership and award for the number of years they had worked for the company.

V. Railroad Partnership Records, 1907-1962

This series contains information on the promotional and financial partnership that existed between the Yellowstone Park Company and the various railroad companies such as the Northern Pacific Railway and the Union Pacific Railroad.

Some of the major railroad companies provided loans to the Yellowstone Park Hotel Company and the Yellowstone Park Transportation Company, which then carried over to the Yellowstone Park Company once they consolidated. There are also many of the promotional materials that both the railroad companies and the Yellowstone Park Company would distribute to visitors as well as correspondence about what to put into the brochures or how best to give them out.

VI. Transportation Department Records, 1911-1979

The contents of this series pertain to the organization and operation of the transportation branch of the Yellowstone Park Company. This includes horse-drawn and motor vehicles in the park, bus tours, boat operations, and various modes of transportation to the park.

Included are tourist studies, monthly and yearly park travel statistic summaries, transportation legal issues, rules and regulations, time tables, and traffic organization concerns. There is also information on the war time activities of the Office of Defense Transportation and inventories of vehicle tires, tubes, gas, and oil for rationing. Vehicle inventories are located in Series I under the title, "Insurance".

VII. Business Correspondence, 1900-1968

The business correspondence contains records of communication between the Yellowstone Park Company and various vendors, financial institutions, service and utility providers, park guests, and correspondence between departments within the company.

Much of the correspondence relates to business transactions and purchases, legal issues and contracts, compliance with state and federal laws, financial dealings with banks and accounting firms, feedback from park guests, development of park programs, and the day to day operations and maintenance of the Yellowstone Park Company. There are a few documents mentioning the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) in Yellowstone with some telegrams sent in General Douglas MacArthur's name about the CCC in the park. Some memos from the Yellowstone Park Association talking about hold-ups that took place in the park and Thomas A. Edison's reaction to them as he traveled through the area. Also included in this series are the personal correspondence to and from William M. Nichols, John Q. Nichols, Fred T. Burke, and Hugh D. Galusha.

VIII. Government Correspondence, 1890-1972

The bulk of the government correspondence is made up of correspondence between the Yellowstone Park Company and the Department of the Interior, the National Park Service, and other national park concessioners.

Much of the communication between the Department of the Interior and the National Park Service pertains to the management, maintenance, improvement and development of park accommodations, facilities, and public programs. This includes orders from the Park Service and the superintendent, annual reports and master plans, discussions and decisions made on park development projects, such as Mission 66, and addressing park guest complaints. Correspondence between the Yellowstone Park Company and other park companies regard business transactions, concessioner meetings, comparison and advice of park operations, and compliance with orders from the National Park Service. Also included are some correspondence between the Yellowstone Park Association and the Department of the Interior.

IX. Brochures & Publications, 1911-1979

This series contains promotional brochures and publications distributed by the Yellowstone Park Company and their partners, advertising the various amenities and activities available within Yellowstone National Park.

X. Architectural Drawings & Related Ephemera, 1890, 1903, 1966

This series consists of documents removed from the time capsule of the Fountain Hotel, including calling cards, a letter listing managers and workers, and an elevation drawing done by Robert C. Reamer for the Yellowstone Park Association of the Old Faithful Inn.

Additional drawings pertaining to Yellowstone Park Company holdings may be found in the Map and Drawing Collection.

XI. Menus, 1884-1974

Within this series are examples of dining menus used at such places as the Old Faithful Inn, Grant Village, Canyon Village, Lake Hotel, and Mammoth Hotel, along with general menus produced by the Yellowstone Park Company. There are menus that were for employees only and also some pre-Yellowstone Park Company menus for the National Hotel and the Northern Pacific Dining Car.

XII. Photographs, 1930-1955

The photographs in this series show employees, buildings, vehicles, and locations within Yellowstone National Park.

Many photographs are of the various Yellowstone Park Company buildings and vehicles with some showing locations and park features such as Old Faithful, Upper Falls, Yellowstone Lake, and the town of Gardiner. There are photos taken of damage done by a fire in one of the Yellowstone Park Transportation Company's vehicle garages and of vehicles that were in accidents. Also included are photos of Yellowstone Park Company employees both on the job and in group photos. The majority of individuals are not identified in most of the employee photographs but they might say at what location the pictured employees worked.

XIII. Visual Recordings, circa 1955-1960

This series contains a 16mm film reel that appears to be a type of employee orientation film and two copies of a promotional film of park facilities and attractions.

030.08	Yellowstone Park Company Payroll Register, 1931-1960 [RESTRICTED] Contains payroll books for Mammoth which include employee names and occupations, 1931-1932, as well as a register of YPC employees, 1934-1935, with names, home addresses, and occupations. Social Security numbers are sometimes included with the employee's name in the payroll registers. The last 4 of the SSN seem to be used as an "employee registration number" beginning in 1937. No SSN used 1940-1947, but they are used again starting 1948. The earnings registers for 1959 and 1960 contain employee information, but no SSN.
